So Different. So Alike. So Who Knew?

Written and Performed by Larry Jay Tish and Ron Jones
Directed by Margaret Ann Brady Who knew that slavery, bar mitzvahs, rednecks, and chicken livers were so funny! An hilarious two-actor multi-media romp of sketches, improv, theatre, and video reveals the absurdity of prejudice and hate within the context of the American Black-Jew experience. www.theblackjewdialogues.com
