

UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA MONROE

November 2010

Our Campus Activities Board invited the Black Jew Dialogues to our campus as part of our Leadership Workshop Series to discuss diversity. The students loved it! They laughed at the jokes and sketches, and their attention was rapt by the serious sections. The best part was the discussion it started after the show with Larry, Ron, and the rest of the audience about issues students face on our own campus. This program helped the students see the prejudices they face every day and may have become so jaded as to no longer notice; their eyes were reopened.

Larry and Ron were so nice and easy to work with! I would highly recommend them to any campus because not only is this topic relevant to everyone on every campus but they are also great guys who genuinely care about equality.

Sincerely,

Laura Knotts
University of Louisiana at Monroe
Coordinator of Student Development